HOPE'S LENS PHOTOGRAPHY

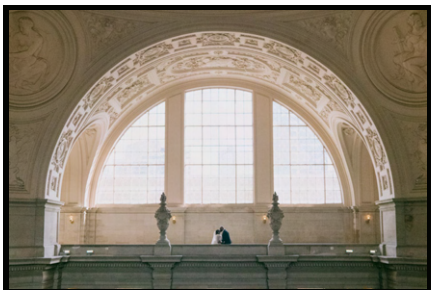

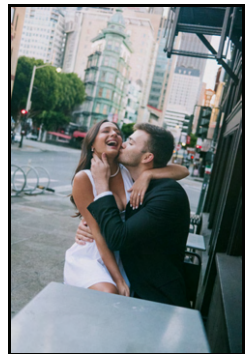

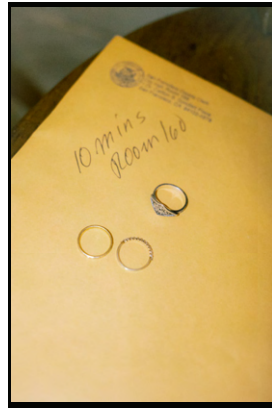

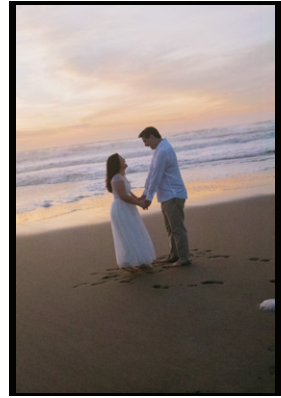

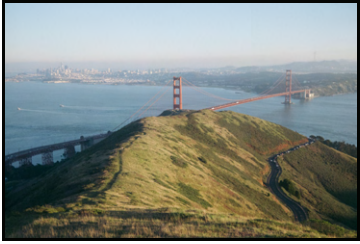

Photos That Feel Like You

Colorful, Candid, and Full of Joy

I believe wedding photography should feel as real and joyful as the day itself. My approach is rooted in authenticity and all about capturing the unposed, the belly laughs, the soft glances, and everything in between. I don't believe in stiff or overly curated. I believe in storytelling through color that reflects how the day actually looked and how it actually felt.

I'm your hype girl, your Nana's future bestie, and a lot of the time, the one making you laugh. Whether I'm documenting quiet in-between moments or gently prompting you into something fun and natural, my goal is always the same: photos that feel like you. Honest. Vibrant. Full of life.

This is joy-centered photography. Where you get to be yourself, and I take care of the rest.
